Guest Lecturer to Speak Twice Today on Campus

Anna Arnold Hedgeman, assistant to the administrator of the Federal Security agency, today will address students of the English, sociology, and education departments. The meeting also is open to any others who wish to attend. She will appear in Room 211 of the BE building at 10 a.m. and in Old Science 107 at 1 p.m.

For her outstanding service in human relations, Mrs. Hedgeman has received numerous citations from such groups as the CIO, the AF of L, and the Schomburg Collection of Negro literature.

After receiving a B.A. degree from Hamline university in St. Paul, she took graduate courses at the University of Minnesota and the New York school of social work. An honorary Doctor of Humane Letters was conferred upon her by Hamline university in 1948.

She has held executive positions in the YWCA, which included staff training, adult education, and teenage activities, and served on the staff of the Emergency Relief bureau which later became the Department of Welfare of New York city. Her experience in the district office as investigator, interviewer, and supervisor prepared her for later assignment as assistant to the commissioner of welfare.

Director of Shaw Chorale . . .

Shaw Chorale Begins Two Day Engagement

Robert Shaw will conduct his chorus in an unusual program, ranging from Bach to songs of the American musical theater, tonight at 8:15 in the Student Union auditorium.

The Robert Shaw Chorale is composed of 32 picked voices supported by a concert orchestra of 19 instrumentalists. Chorus rehearsal with 32-year-old Shaw is grueling. "I'm going to work you hard tonight," he will tell his group with obvious relish.

Rehearsal begins with 15 or 20 minutes of limbering-up exercises. Shaw leads his singers in calisthenics, back-bends, stretching, and yawning, all designed to relax tight throats and tone up breathing apparatus. A conscientious period of vocalizing follows. The choristers sing scales and arpeggios, sustain on different vowels, practice singing fortissimo and pianissimo. Shaw works at extending his singers' range in both directions.

Then the serious business of the evening begins. Shaw's seating arrangement at rehearsals is unorthodox. At one point he may have singers all around him—or he may arrange them in smaller groups, each with its own conductor. Sometimes the Chorale becomes a roomful of vocal quartets, sopranos, altos, tenors and basses grouped like bridgehands. This is so each voice can absorb all the other parts as well as its own.

Shaw believes each voice ought to know the music backward and forward. He mentions as a frequent fault of choruses that each section hears nothing but its own part, with two or three in the section who really know the music and the others lazily following their lead.

Son of one of California's best-known ministers, Shaw's earliest ambition was to be a minister. He worked his way through Jomona College at Claremont, Calif., by wrapping bread in a bakery, working in the General Electric steel mills, waiting on tables, washing dishes, and doing some preaching in addition.

He got his start in choral conducting at Pomona, where he led the college glee club. Fred Waring made a film at Pomona, in which Shaw's glee club did a small bit. Waring offered Shaw a job in New York, building a radio glee club, and Shaw went east in 1938.

Shaw remained with Waring until 1945, when he was inducted into the Navy. When he arrived at Sampson Training station, the Navy at once put him to work organizing a service glee club.

In 1946 he was appointed choral director for the Berkshire Music Festival at Tanglewood, Mass. Besides directing many other choral groups ranging from the CBS symphony to the Collegiate

Butte Blaze Claims Four

Butte, Oct. 17.—(UP)—A hotel and apartment building fire in Butte has claimed four lives.

Another person is missing in the blaze which destroyed a hotel, apartment house, and a half-dozen business establishments in the mining city.

The four dead persons have been identified tentatively as Joe Stukorski, Pat Hughes, John Veshne, and Mrs. Hazel Scott.

In addition to the Vroom hotel and apartment house, the Standard Brands food distributors establishment was wiped out, and also a barber shop, McBride's Bendix home laundry and the American News company.

Cheerleader Trials Will Begin Today

Another series of tryouts for cheerleaders will begin today at 4 o'clock in the Copper room of the Student Union. Tryouts will run the rest of this week and for a few days next week until Traditions board makes the final decision, according to Don Lucas, Traditions board chairman.

Traditions board will meet tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the Eloise Knowles room.

Chorale, Shaw serves as head of the choral department of the Juliard School of Music.

Community Concert season tickets are on sale in the Student Union business office for $2.50 and will be sold at the box office tonight and tomorrow night.

Archaeology Field Trip Reveals Cultural Traits

The third annual MSU archaeology field trip revealed some very important cultural traits of the ancient Indians of Montana, according to C. I. Malouf, assistant professor of anthropology at MSU.

Seven MSU students, two Tulane students, and one UCLA graduate student assisted Malouf on the trip this summer. The group spent ten weeks in North Dakota looking over the sites of an ancient Indian culture that later spread into Eastern Montana.

The North Dakota Historical society and the Smithsonian society had been at the same sites previously, but their study was of those prehistoric people who lived in earth lodges. Malouf said that the

The United Nations Security council has postponed until Friday a vote on the British proposal for new Anglo-Iranian oil talks.

Egypt has rushed police and reserves into the Suez canal zone as Britain orders 3,000 more paratroopers into the area from Cyprus.

Allied and Communist liaison officers are meeting for the eighth time tonight in an attempt to arrange a resumption of Korean truce talks.

Democratic Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut predicts President Truman will call Congress back into session, if the lawmakers adjourn without enacting a tax bill.

Delaney, Duffy Leading Frosh

Jamie Brennan and Donna Persons are candidates for ASMSU secretary in the final elections next week.

Miss Brennan had 129 votes, Miss Persons had 103, and Barbara Hill, 65. Marilyn Schuch took 41 votes as a write-in candidate. Three hundred thirty-nine upper classmen voted in the primary election yesterday.

Sophomore Offices

Bob Burke, a write-in candidate, polled 55 votes for sophomore president. Gary Gallagher was second with 17 while Marshall Murray and Dick Fletcher had 12 and 6 respectively. Fourteen remaining votes were scattered among 10 write-ins.

Two hundred and nine freshmen voted for their officers and gave the two high candidates, Doug Delaney and Ken Duffy, 58 votes apiece. Bernie Mogstad had 40 votes, Van Olsen, 36, and Gene Nelson, 15. Two extra votes went to write-ins.

Nancy Dahl took the vice-presidential lead with 85 votes, and Phyllis Kind came in second with 73. Others were: Roxy Ward, 52, Marjorie Lovberg, 10, and one write-in.

Jeanne Thomas and Nancy Gallagher lead for secretary with 83 and 65 respectively. Mary Lou Harrington had 48, Carlene Dragstedt, 10. Three additional votes went to write-ins.

Pat Keith won in the treasurer race with 154 votes. Carlene Dragstedt polled 15 votes for second place, and Pat Moore had 14. Seventeen additional votes were split among 10 other candidates.

Central Board Delegates

In the Central board delegate position, Bob Newlin had 84, Ed Overturf, 60, Gordon Ormesher, 33, Tom Van Meter, 16, Jim Graff, 13, and Richard McGraw, 7.

The two candidates in each office with the largest number of votes will run in the final election next week.

group from MSU was studying those people who did not live in earth lodges.

The purpose of the expedition was to find evidences of the ancient Indian culture that later greatly influenced the Indians of Montana.

Historical pots, glass beads, arrowheads, stone knives, domestic tools and implements were found by the group. The bones of some of the animals that these prehistoric people ate were also found. Their discoveries were a new contribution not only to Montana, but to the entire central states area, he said.

Malouf said they had to look over the sites last summer because they were in an area which will be covered by the backed-up water of Garrison dam.

The annual field trips are sponsored by MSU and the National Park service.

MSU students who participated in the expedition were Neal Clement, Sheboygan, Wis.; Donald Davis, Carey, Ida.; Jacob Hoffman, Great Falls; John Holt, Ravalli; Edward Lamberg, Butte; Dick Moomaw, Santa Ana, Calif.; and James Ryan, Billings.

Oh, for a Phantom . . .

Interfraternity council isn't. It is neither a union of fraternity heads nor is it a council. The bickerings of the last Interfraternity council session convinced me that it was a meeting of house presidents whose first interests (and last, too) lie only with the fraternity they represent.

This is the group that is supposed to dispense self-justice and to sit like solons above such contemptible things (tsk! tsk!) as illegal rushing.

But since Interfrat has no one to fight, they fight among themselves.

What the almighty Greeks need is a sparring partner—if only a phantom. Remember the powerful Independent party of some 30 members several years ago? Why, come election time, Interfraternity used to flex their muscles and convince themselves that they were going out to battle a giant. Hand in hand, the fraternities would band together and hand out offices on the pro rata basis. When victory was firmly clinched by several thousand votes, they would join hands and dance around a pile of burning Independent cards, singing "Hail Interfraternity, Long May Ye Live."

Ah, Interfrat—are those days gone forever?—D.W.

Kappa Tau To Publish Grizzly Guide

Kappa Tau, senior scholastic honor society, voted Tuesday evening to publish a student directory for the second consecutive year.

The directory, known as the Grizzly Guide, will again contain the names of all MSU students, their campus and home addresses, phone numbers, and affiliations. Information on campus organizations and their officers will also be listed.

Advertising space will be sold in the directory to pay part of the publishing cost. The guide will be sold to the student body as soon as it is compiled and printed.

Paul Tschache, Hamilton, Kappa Tau president, expressed hope that it would be available earlier this year, possibly soon after mid-quarter.

He appointed the following KT members to the guidebook committee: Tom Ambrose, Eureka, make-up and copy; Dick Wood, Bridger, sales; Bob Fraser, Billings, advertising; Jackie Perry, Butte, affiliations; and Peggy Clapp, Missoula, typing and checking.

Receipts from the sale of the guidebooks, which netted $257.55 last year, will be reserved for the honor society's scholarship fund. Lois Jean Baker, Tarkio, received a Kappa Tau scholarship of $100 last spring from this fund.

She won the award for being one of MSU's outstanding sophomores in scholarship and extra-curricular activities. More than one such scholarship may be awarded this year, Tschache said, since there is now $800 in Kappa Tau's treasury.

Theta Chi Victor Over Corbin Hall

The Jones to Barsness aerial combination proved too much for the Corbin hall men as they went down to a 19 to 0 defeat before the Theta Chis yesterday in another Clover bowl classic.

In the first quarter, Rod Jones rifled a 20-yard pass to Dick Barsness who ran the stretch of unpopulated field for the first score. The attempted conversion was blocked.

Corbin hall's Carl Westby tried a long pass in the second quarter but it was marked for interception as the Theta Chis' Sutliff took it and ran the distance for the score.

The last tally was a result of the dangerous Jones-Barsness combination. They also collected the extra point.

Men, too, are wasting their time in college. Four years for a bachelor's degree—then, marriage.

SAE's Barely Win From Foresters

Battling to make up for their first quarter blunder, the SAE's narrowly came back, yesterday afternoon, to eke out a 6 to 2 decision against a determined but luckless Forester squad.

Playing on the sloping west half of the Clover bowl, the SAE's Don Erickson picked up some downhill speed, captured a Forester pass and ran the distance for the lone counter.

The SAE's Bob Hudson, a constant threat to the Forester secondary, nabbed a pass and ran to the Forester two-yard-line early in the second half, but his effort was voided when three plays later, Forester Carl Johnson intercepted an aerial and took it to his own 10. That ended the most serious threat in the second half.

Ronnie Faust and Hudson led the SAE attack, while Johnson was the workhorse for the Foresters.

Grizzlies to Meet Bobcats Saturday for Copper Bowl

This week it is the "Copper Bowl" that is at stake on the gridiron. The Grizzlies travel to Bozeman where the Montana State college Bobcats play host to the Grizzlies for the first time since 1923. The annual classic was returned to Bozeman this year to bring the game back to the campuses of the two rivals.

The Bobcats have a poor grid record with five straight defeats at the hands of Utah, Eastern Washington, Colorado College, Idaho State college, and Colorado State. The Bobcats are usually at their peak for the battle with the Grizzlies as the 1947 game revealed with the Cats winning 13 to 12.

In past competition the Grizzlies have 34 wins to the Cats nine with five of the annual contests ending in a tie.

Bobcats Homecoming

The game this Saturday will be the Homecoming for the Montana State alums and will also be in honor of the Grizzly-Bobcat teams of 1926. The members of those squads of yesteryear will watch the 25th anniversary game from special benches that will be set up on the sidelines next to their respective teams.

The Bobcats will use a single wing offensive formation against the Silvertips. In five games the Cats have thrown 64 passes and completed 20, and plan to throw plenty into the Grizzlies secondary Saturday. They have often passed from a punt formation. Jack Moore and Tom Parac have been doing the passing for the Bobcats.

Larry Demers, Arlee, will see considerable action at halfback. He was formerly enrolled at MSU.

Tri Delts Dump Thetas; SK Wins

Sigma Kappa trounced the Independents, 49 to 6, and the Tri Delts won from Kappa Alpha Theta in Tuesday's volleyball games in the Women's gym.

Jo Ann Pings was high scorer for the Sigma Kappas with 20 points. High scorer for the Independents was Eleanor Beacom with six points.

Although the Thetas trailed at the half by 15 points, they were only eight points behind at the finish. Kenette Kenison helped the Tri Delts win by making 14 points. Eileen Polk and Jayne Radigan each made six points for the Thetas.

Train Tickets Still Available for Gam

Tickets for the train to Bozeman are still on sale in the Student Union and in the various living groups.

Bill Reynolds, ASMSU president, said the four cents advertising cost that Central board had decided to add to the original $6.21 round trip price would be dropped.

After a mix-up in departure time, it was finally decided to have the train leave Missoula at 6:30 a.m. Saturday and leave Bozeman at 1 a.m. Sunday. Traveling time is five and one-half hours one way.

Miss Clow has given permission for women to go on the train if they have the written permission of their parents.
